'Goodbye, Mr. Donovan', we said in a chorus. We waved, as had become our custom when people left.

Mr. Donovan boarded the train, and just like that we let them go.

The smoke cleared, and left on the bench at The Station we were still waiting. We waited for our train - our goodbye, but we had already waited far longer than anyone else we had met. People came into the waiting room, but soon after they would leave when The Helper would call out their name.

But never us.

We were the ones left, and The Helper did not seem that eager to help us - irony was not lost on us.

We heard another train arrive, but in front of us the doors opened and a young girl stepped through.

'Oh, Miss Meadows. Your train is just arriving: glad you made it'. She nodded her thanks and just like that we waved at her, and bid her farewell without even knowing who she was or what she had experienced in her life.

We just waved, as had become our custom.

Then for the first time we looked at each other.

It was the best, but also the stupidest idea we had ever had.

-----

This is a LARP that combines five different fates.

It will focus on their story, and it is meant to be emotional.

There will be a workshop before the LARP starts, and there will be time to debrief and talk it over, after the LARP ends.

My expectations and wishes for you are:

- You are willing to immerse yourself and be vulnerable
- You are not afraid to have a monologue in front of others
- You will give it your all to portray your character
- You will play well with others

What can I offer you?

- A safe environment in which to try out this kind of LARP
- A meaningful experience
- Alcohol-free drinks
- Well-written characters and narratives
- 6 hours of fun

Verden	A magical world of wonder and boredom
Status	Lukket for tilmelding (375%)
Tekst	The world is inhabited by magisters, magical existences who live surrounded by magic and spend all of their very long lives seeking excitement in a world where pretty much everything has been seen, and every experiment has been done before.

So sometimes, they (*8*) artifices, constructs, beings crafted and made, artificial beings without a purpose, in the hope that the artifices will seek out a purpose, and stumble upon something of interest. And sometimes they do.

His eyes reflected every flicker of the flames. His former home was in ruin. And it was all his fault.

Orange fires in the dark night lit up the body of the artifice: Across the wooden boards of his chest were black scorch-marks and several deeper gashes. His face, constructed from iron and hard wood, had a serious cut he did not dare touch. You could see the dance of the flames reflected in his red ruby eyes. He had steel plating across the outside of his arms and legs, though the plating had almost been entirely ripped off his right arm. He had barely retained any feeling in the limb.

He was lucky he got out alive. He could only hope his master wouldn't. Else, the pain he now felt all throughout his body would just be the start.

He stood stunned, partially by pain, partially by the fact that he had just betrayed the man he for all his life had served loyally. A master who's brand had been carved into his torso, which at the time had been a great honour.

The darkness engulfed him. Something howled in the distance. What, he could not make out. He didn't mind. His eyes were entirely fixated on the fire.

A sudden burst of embers made him take a step backwards. Then, his body shook as a scream of true pain and unimaginable suffering emerged from the flames. Where he had stood completely still to ease the suffering before, now he could not but tremble, and felt every pain his body had to offer. An arm, pale as moonlight, slowly crawled its way out of the flames. Behind it, he could just make out the shape of his not so former master, still alive, screaming towards him in agony. Entire seconds went by in horror before instinct kicked in, and all pain disappeared, replaced with the rush of raw adrenaline. His nimble build where quick to follow his feet as they turned around, and ran towards the dark embrace of the forest...

And not before long, he found himself in an entirely new place... a place unlike anything he had ever experienced... and he was not alone...

"Heartbound" is a game of adventure and action, of wondering and pondering, and of immersion in a different kind of world - the world of the artifices, living constructs, creatures crafted and made, and their masters, the magisters, creatures of might and magic. Follow a story, delve into the world, the characters, and you will find that the way of the heart is, that it will always surprise.

Welcome, to a magical world of wonder and boredom!

Agenten flytter uroligt på sig. "Hvorfor skulle jeg melde fra"

Lederen rodede i sit hår. "Ja hvordan skal jeg sige det, kursuslederen er lidt excentrisk men han er CIAs bedste forhørs ekspert, og selvom du tror du ved en hel del om hvor grænsen mellem moderat psykisk og fysisk pres er, vil han flytte den. Han er... en legende, det er nok derfor han stadig er her."

Den sidste del af sætningen sagde lederen mere til sig selv.

Du er CIA, vi er CIA. Her er sandheder og løgne vores vigtigste værktøjer. Vi spiser konspirations teoretikere til morgenmad og skider UFO episoder ud om aftenen. Husk skandaler opstår først når nogen opdager noget de ikke skulle. Vi kontrollere informationsstrømmen med skandaler, likvideringer og Whistleblowers.

Welcome to
New Dunhaven

(About the setting, skip to bottom for a little more about the actual game)

When is a city actually two cities? When it is New Dunhaven, the Dusk City. The sprawling metropolis might seem like a single ever-growing urban area, but two cities occupy the space: the city inhabited by the law-abiding citizens of New Dunhaven, and the shadowy world of the criminal cartels that exists just under the surface of lawful society.

New Dunhaven's size and the density of its population sustain thousands of stories taking place all at once. We see these same stories in our own world: careers on the rise, tragic falls from grace, political and religious strife, and fortunes being won and lost, all touching the lives of individuals and groups every moment of the day.

That's more than enough to occupy the everyday lives of law-abiding citizens. But beyond the mundane news of the day, just out of sight and hidden by a veil of deception and cunning, lies a vast criminal underworld. This world within the world, this city within the city, consists of the Right Kind of People—those who blithely break the law for power and profit.

Some of these criminals claim that the world of the law-abiding citizens of New Dunhaven presents a false image, a mask pulled over the seedy face of crime. Considerable evidence supports their view: Many seemingly legitimate businesses serve as façades for cartel operations, and numerous supposedly upstanding citizens are actually agents of the cartels, living seemingly innocent public lives but secretly engaging in criminal deeds. The eight cartels that abide by the Arrangement form the backbone of this secret world's population. Where the law divides the city into districts, the cartels divide the city into claimed turf. Where law-abiding people depend on the Crown to watch over them, the Right Kind of People turn to the Black Council and its agents. Where the lawful look over their shoulders for criminals, criminals constantly keep their eyes open for signs of the Blooded or the City Watch. Almost everything in the law-abiding world has a reflection in the criminal underworld, with the cartels at its center.

(The game)

In the game you will be playing in renaissance venice (but with magic), doing a heist with your fellow players. Will you be able to get the score or will you be jailed in the process.

"In the end, gravity always win," as it says in Bigby's handwritten footnotes to the Fly spell. Not to be confused with Mordenkainen's Fly spell that summons a fly. Or Otiluke's Fly spell that turns you into a fly.
And gravity won again, as the box of magic potions hit the floor of the wizard's laboratory and the bottles shattered.
"Whoops," the bard said and shrunk to the size of a grain of sand.

Tekst*INTRO:

A searing pain ripped through your body like a stab that came out of nowhere, causing you to trip and fall. You could hear surprised and worried voices around you.. somehow already far away even though you knew those were the voices of people you loved.

The pain did not stop. Like a blade of chilled ice it just seemed to cut deeper and deeper to the very essence of your soul, spreading the cold of death in your entire being. Then the swirling began... Swirls faster and faster, spinning the world around until there was no up and down - no beginning and no end. The voices disappeared into a frightening distance and you only had your own heartbeat to cling onto in the deep silence where you were spinning on and on - out of time and place.

You felt how your body was almost tearing apart and your mind was spinning too while you desperately tried to cling onto the hazed cascade of memories from your life - faces, scenes, places - tumbling over another to crash through your mind until that too was too much to bear.

Suddenly it all stopped. Your staggered breath, Then your heartbeat and then the slow sound of water dripping entered your mind. The scent of rotten mold under your nose, moist and sticky dirt on your skin - seeping through your clothes and darkness... oh the darkness.

Then.... another voice spoke:

"h-hello?"

OFFGAME INTRO:

For some unknown reason a group of random strangers find themselves in a nightmare none of them were capable of imagining. Now they have to work together despite differences to escape the demonic world of hell, against all odds.

Beasts of terror and malice inhabit the dark plains of death where these rather ordinary people need to become extraordinary to survive and to return to the world they know. Furthermore they will soon find that not only are they misplaced - they are also hunted.

- We play in english if any english speaking people join in - if not then danish.
- Strictly ingame

Mecatol Rex. The center of the known galaxy and seat of the former Lazax Empire. Scarred by the flames of betrayal, Rex is a specter of a fallen empire and of ages long forgotten, yet it remains an object of reverence—and desire—in a galaxy of conflict and uncertainty.

Once, the great city that spanned its surface was the pinnacle of civilization. Today, Mecatol City is naught but a blasted shell of its former glory, a grim respite in the toxic Sea of Desolation that covers the majority of the planet.

Even so, its parabolic history of decadence and destruction does little to deter those who would seek to harness its power. The Winaaran custodians who dwell within the remnants of the city maintain what is left of the former capital, waiting for one of the Great Races to step forward and take up the mantle of the former Emperors.

But who among the races of the galaxy could fill the void left by the Lazax? To lay claim to the throne is a destiny sought by many, yet the shadows of the past serve as a grim warning to those who would follow in their footsteps...

This will be a boardgame block where we will be playing Twilight Imperium 4th edition, as opposed to last year where we played 3rd edition. 4th features a more streamlined experience with some new fun additions, such as flagships and political contracts.

Facebook gruppebesked med: Michael Hald, Julie Kofoed Hviid, Esben Dybdahl Larsen, Dorte Jensen & Allan Birch Jensen
anerkender

MICHAEL: Hej alle. Nu nærmer datoens sig, så vil lige sikre mig, at alle har reserveret weekenden i uge 11. Tænkte det er nemmest at benytte mit sommerhus, der er nemlig sovepladser nok til os alle fem. I skal ikke tænke på sengetøj, håndklæder eller andre småting. Bare medbring tøj og de ejendele i ikke kan undvære, så sørger jeg for resten. Michael.

JULIE: Heeey. Kan slet ikke forstå det allerede er 12 år siden. Bliver så dejligt alle at være samlet igen. Godt initiativ med sommerhuset Michel, skøn ide.

ESBEN: Hej alle. Jeg bekræfter lige min deltagelse. God ide med sommerhuset @Michael, kan du lige smide adressen herind?

MICHAEL: Adressen er: Jagtvej 5, 6950 Ringkøbing

ALLAN: Thumbs up

ESBEN: Mange tak @Michael

DORTE: Undskyld jeg ikke har svaret før nu. Har så travlt for tiden, men selvfølgelig kommer jeg også. Jeg kan komme fra kontoret fredag eftermiddag. Michael, jeg har bestilt blomster til dine forældres gravsted. Bekræfter også at Allans "Thumbs up" betyder at han kommer.

ESBEN: @Dorte skønt at du også kommer. Vi ville jo nødigt undvære dig. :)

JULIE: Selvfølgelig kommer Dorte. Hun står ALTID ved sit ord. <3 <3 <3

MICHAEL: Tak Dorte. Ja, og så synes jeg resten skal drøftes når vi møder hinanden. Ingen grund til at debatterer det hele herinde. :)

JULIE: Ja ja, jeg sagde da ikke noget vigtigt. :P

Der er kun få timer til du skal se de fire andre igen. I var bedste venner på børnehjemmet, Schubert Minde, og selvom kontakten ikke har været stabil i årene efter, føler du stadigvæk et tæt bånd til dem alle.

Du ser ned på arret i din håndflade. Det er 12 år siden i alle blandede blod, på kirkegården og indgik en pagt. Selvom ingen har nævnt den indtil nu, er du ikke overrasket over alle kommer.

Nu er dagen her, hvor i skal drøfte hævn over de mennesker der fratog jer, jeres barndom. Om hvordan man straffer de folk, der er skyld i ar, traumer og en ødelagt sjæl.

Et dansk (midtjysk) drama.

De fem venner fra børnehjemmet finder sammen i en weekend, for at drøfte en pagt, de indgik som unge. Store emner er på spild, både omkring deres barndom, men også deres interne konflikter, romancer og den fremtid de hver og især er på vej til.

Rollerne er skrevet, og der skal derfor være tre mænd og to kvinder.

In a field, a lonely tower stands.
Red bricks and mortar form a single spire.
Crooked and old, but surprisingly bright.
Nestled by a green hill, protecting it from southern siege.
And with an (*18*) view towards the north.

The Red Tower is the name of an ancient building that lies near the eastern coastlands of the Great Divide. It stands there, on an empty field, not near any castle or keep. It stands alone, forgotten. Only time has come to visit the past many years, each time leaving its marks on the now old and crooked tower.

But, for the first time in years, signs of life starts to show inside the tower. Candles are lit, the steep steps of its stairs are scrubbed and cleaned, and in the war-room beneath the tower, a (*23*) is set with six chairs around it, all untouched by the dust.

A war has torn nations apart, and the world is burning. A secret alliance has been formed as a last hope for peace. Unlikely leaders and ancient enemies hide beneath the red tower plotting for the war to end.

"The Red Tower" is a game of political intrigue and drama set in a low-fantasy world. You have gone all in as allies, but in the fog of war friends can turn, and so can the tide of war. This is a battle of wits, of tactics, a game of human hearts, all singing, screeching, and bleeding for the cause of their leaders

- you.

Take command, take charge, await the news, prepare your retaliations, your betrayals, your secrets to be unveiled, and your heart to break.

Nyhedsoplæseren kiggede ned I sine papirer. "Og så til Esbjerg hvor festskibet "Glory hound" ligger til havn, parat til at stævne ud i næste uge. Men allerede de næste døgn vil en stribe kendte VIPs gå ombord. Der er bl.a. Tale om rappere DarkFucker, milliardæren Ferdinand Gold med sin datter Alicia, superstjernen Cindra Isha og det kendte danske navn Interstate. Rederiet har hyret ekstra mandskab til at tage sig af præcis VIPsne så de får deres helt eget crew oplyser rederiet. Det er også nu festskibet skal indtjene de mange millioner som den ikke fik tjent de sidste 2 sæsoner. Og nu videre til vejret..."

Manageren slukkede for TVet. Puha det ville blive noget en opgave at passe så store stjerner. Selvom de sidste mange dage var gået med at træne medarbejderne og huske dem på hvordan man skulle opføre sig over for pressen mm. ville stadig blive noget en opgave.

I dette scenarie vil man spille nogle helt normale mennesker der er ansat på festskibet Glory hound. Men hvilke valg må man tage når stjernerne flytter ind, hvor er ens personlige grænser og hvor er rederiets grænser?

Der skal bruges min. 1 kvindelige deltagere og min 1. mandlige.

Velkommen til en dag på kontoret. En verden fyldt med computere, mødelokaler, post-its og bristede drømme. Et sted hvor ambitionerne flokkes for at dø, og hvor apatiens hersker med en doven hånd.

5 medarbejdere i en mellemstor IT-virksomhed er hver især kørt fast i deres karrierer, men midt i stilstanden, er noget er ved at ske.

Et nyt projekt rører på sig, og truer med at ryste det gamle storrumskontor. Nu skal slaget stå. Kan de overvinde apatiens og mande sig op til den afgørende udfordring? Og vil de stå sammen eller hver for sig?

Indsatsen er stor - efter projektet lurte et langt farligere bæst - dets mange uhellige navne hvisket sagte på de lysstofrørløste gange: kompetenceafklaring, effektivisering, outsourcing - eller det mest vulgære af alle: fyringsrunde.

Meget er på spil, for selvom livet på kontoret er drænende, er det intet imod den fortvivlede eksistens i arbejdsløshedens ørken, hvor sagsbehandlerne martrer de fordømte med deres frygtelige paragrafpiske. Skælv ved tanken, gode læser, og kom indenfor. Kontoret venter.

Dette spil er et semi live spil om den kedelige dag på et kontor.

Der er 5 spiller i dette spil og hver af dem har hver deres værdier til firmaet.

Til dem som tilmelder sig er det et plus hvis man har kendskaber til de værdier hver karakter bringer ind i spillet, dog er dette ikke et must og kunne da også være sjovt hvis man ikke har kendskaber til det.

Ved godt der står at jeg skal bruge 3 piger/damer, men kan dette ikke skaffes er det intet problem!

Dette spil er skrevet af Piotr Zbigniew og alt credit går til denne person!

Tekst Klokken er kun midnat men de fleste er taget hjem, der er også mange der skal tilbage til deres familier. Aftenen hvor man kunne drømme sig 20 år tilbage, til livet som ung teenager, men fester og druk. Det 20. års jubilæum er ved at lukke ned og de sidste sidder omkring bålet, udenfor mens dørene lukkes til skolen. Alle tænker de at man burde tage hjem, men ingen af dem vil slippe stemningen, her blandt de andre. Gensynet med en god ven, man havde glemt eller en gammel flamme, som man havde glemt. I aften flammer ting op igen, sår åbnes og hjerter brændes på ny, eller måske er det netop det der gør det hele så fantastisk, måske lukkes gamle sår og hvem ved hvad der sker inden aftenen er omme. Får man del kys man har ventet på i 20 år. Får man set sin ven i øjnene og undskyldt for, ja for hvad. En fra gruppe ytre, at i aften skal man glemme de 20 år der er gået, glemme sit liv og bare være her, her i nuet med de gamle venner. De knitrende lyde fra bålet lyder som små metal låse der fanger dem alle, fanger dem i fortiden.

Jeg skal bruge min. 2 drenge og 2 piger til dette scenarie.

Intro

Year 2018

We ran through the alleys, and dodged whatever spells they were throwing at us. We were four left, and... and... The Council had fallen. Beings of The Dark Colours had entered our sanctum and even Archmage Deven couldn't keep them at bay. The members of the council stood with him, but one by one they fell to ancient - and powerful - magic. The archmage was the last to fall, but as a final act he forced (*18*) a rift to The In-Between. The Beings were sucked into it... Oh Undergods.. He too was sucked into the rift, but he had saved New York for now.

'Watch out!', I heard Niyera's voice cry out and I merely dodged the blast. A dark-green coloured cloud swirled as I leapt through it, but in an instant I felt the patterns change. Ropes of magic grabbed me by my legs, and I toppled over like a statue. I was paralyzed and from the cloud The Being manifested itself. It had no visible mouth, but a voice kept calling my name - maybe from within myself! How powerful was this creature? In a moment's panic I pushed away all magic from me, and The Being was dazzled for a few seconds.

'Let me!', Karel's brutish voice beckoned and I kicked myself lose from The Being's grasp. Huge claws had ripped (*18*) my skin, and the blood mixed with the dark-green colour. This was bad!

'Hulbazizi!'. Karel boomed in that alley, and a shriek of pain emitted from The Being. It twisted, and the long claws tried to reach for Karel, but Niyera weaved a light-blue string above it. Constrictions - good thinking.

'HULBAZIZI!', Karel commanded again, and a crackle filled the air... The moment after The Being lay still, and slowly faded from existence. Karel fell to his knees, and placed both hands in the pool of my blood. Niyera did too, and from the blood they pulled forth an amulet. They had manifested all evil into my blood, and this amulet I had to keep on me, until I could undergo a purification ritual.

'Please tell me that ain't Dark Colours!'. Terrifi pointed at the skies, and the rumbling skies above us flashed with dark-red lightning.

This was bad. Really bad.

In a world far from ours, there are people who depend on magic, both in the physical form of objects and in the raw, untamed form of spells. Without magic, the world and its population will surely die.

A lot of strange things have occurred since the hills appeared.

- A mystic lord has begun his campaign, and are now saving the common people from the Zarlom empire's elite troops. The Lord has shown greater magic abilities than possible for any normal living person in this world, and your reports suggest that he is experimenting on his enemies.
- A vampire has shown her face in the forest at south, and nobody, not even the Great Champion of the realm could defeat her in direct combat.
- A new adventurer has shown his face, as all, he started in the lowest ranks of adventurer, but in the matter of 4 days, he managed to climb the ranks to the top 10 adventurers. Is he the famed legendary Adamantite adventurer?

Concept of characters: you are a group of 3-6 ordinary people, each with one of the common abilities of either magic or martial arts. You are out investigating the strange occurrence of the hills at west, and the new beasts that have shown their faces in the area.

Bazar Midway er afslutningen på en trilogi, der nu har taget 4 år om at nå til sin ende.
