

B-LIST CELEB

So here it is, your chance to get a real show, not just best friend parts. Why a ghost hunting show then, since you don't believe in ghosts?

How do you plan to convince the producer to put your name in the title?

What crappy job were you doing when you got your first part?

The two hosts really don't know all the much about being on TV. Do you plan to help them or let them make fools of themselves?

This is your first real power trip and really, aren't PAs there for the talent? What do you like to do to remind him who's in charge?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Why haven't you spoken to your mother for the past six months even though she calls just about everyday?

You've worked with this director before, on his last movie. It turned out to be a huge flop. How does it feel to be working with him/her again?

Tell me about when your little sister died.

AA has really been working out. How long have you been sober?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

When was the last time you cried?

Who did you have to sleep with to get this job?

Fame, that's what it's really about. Why are you so afraid of dying alone and forgotten?

What is your name?

CAMERAPERSON

When did you realize that ghosts weren't real?

How long have you been married?

Tell me about your child.

How have you been coping with being away from the two of them so long?

You get to be the only cameraperson working on an all new stale concept, the ghost hunter show. How'd you end up stuck with that?

What did you really want to do for a career and how did you end up doing this?

Why is it next to impossible to gross you out?

As the hardworking part of the group, you feel entitled to use the PA to help you. What do you get him/her to do?

Even though you got your GED, why do you regret not having a proper high school graduation?

You haven't spoken to your brother in years because of a messy inheritance battle. What was it about and who won it?

Despite loving your spouse very much you cheated on him/her once. How did that happen?

Have you told him/her?

What is your name?

PROPERTY OWNER/LOCAL EXPERT

You're the local expert on the serial killer as well as the owner of the land where his cabin is located. Now some ghost hunters show is paying you a lot of money to shoot there tonight as well as wanting you to provide "local color and background." How does it feel dealing with these people when you don't even believe in ghosts?

What do you do for a living?

What do people automatically assume about you? Why are they wrong?

They have someone called a PA with them who seems to have to do whatever he/she is told to. What do you like to make him/her do?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

You've never allowed anyone near the Faceless Killer's cabin before. You even had some nosy reporter arrested for trespassing. So why this group?

When did you decide to start speaking with a slight accent? Why?

What is your favorite story to tell out of towners about the Faceless Killer?

You usually don't like going out to the cabin. It's just one story with one room. You have to go outside to relieve yourself. So why were you there a week ago?

Something you don't like talking about but the reason you own the land the cabin stands on is that you knew the Faceless Killer as Uncle Gunther. How did you manage to keep the relation a secret?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

They never found some of the bodies. The ones they did find were missing their faces, that's how he got his name, The Faceless Killer. Some people think the bodies are buried someplace on your land. Why won't you let them dig it up?

Why did you have so much fun the time Uncle Gunther took you fishing?

Tell me about your recurring nightmare.

What is your name?

PRODUCER

Ok, this is it, a whole new show and your chance to make a name for yourself. What is the title going to be?

Why a ghost hunting show, especially since you don't believe in ghosts?

Why do you love working with this particular director?

Let's face it, the PA is YOUR personal servant. What's your favorite thing to make him/her do?

How do you feel when others use your PA?

Your job can be nerve wracking. What relaxation technique do you use to deal with it?

How do you feel about working with children?

You need the first show to be good so you snuck out to the cabin yesterday and set up a few fake haunting effects. How did you get away unnoticed?

Why do you regret leaving your fiance every single day?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Why have you stopped dating all together?

Of course, you really need this to work because you owe some nasty people a lot of money. Who are they?

What do you owe them money for?

What is your name?

PRODUCTION ASSISTANT

This is your first real job as a PA and it's a ghost hunters show. Being a nonbeliever, how do you feel about that?

The job description was a bit vague and you're not really sure who your boss is. How do you cope when everyone is calling for you at once?

How much longer until you are legal drinking age?

Why have you rejected your parents political views?

Tell me about your favorite stuffed animal when you were growing up.

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

What movie haven't you seen that people are always shocked to hear?

Why do you love this job so much?

Who was your secret high school crush?

What was it like growing up with a domineering father?

What did you do that you ended up in court ordered therapy at 16?

What was it like living homeless for a year?

When you were young you were so afraid of the dark you needed a night light to sleep. The cabin you're going to tonight has no electricity. How do you plan to deal with it when it gets dark out?

What is your name?

HOST 1

Talk to the other host about this one: What do you call your ghost hunting team?

What sport were you really good at in High School and how did it feel getting your varsity letter in it?

Why do you always give money to homeless people?

Sometimes, when things are slow, you entertain yourself by annoying the PA. What do you do?

Why won't you eat Chinese food anymore?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Tell me about the time when you were five and got lost.

What was it like not being able to afford the things you wanted growing up?

When did you realize ghosts weren't real?

Your fellow ghost hunter really seems to believe in ghosts. How do you feel about this?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

What have your last few breakups had in common?

On what bill are you several months delinquent?

If only your father had properly made out his will, you wouldn't have money flow trouble. Who ended up getting the money instead?

What is your name?

HOST /

Talk to the other host about this one: What do you call your ghost hunting team?

Even though you have never actually seen or experienced any sort of supernatural event, you still believe in ghosts. Why?

Who was your childhood hero?

Why don't you pray anymore?

Sometimes, when things are busy, you like to make the PA have to run around. What do you do?

What is your filth threshold?

When did you realize you were falling in love with the other host?

What is the one bad habit you just can't seem to break?

You've got a lot riding on this, what do you plan to do for money if this doesn't take off?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Your mother was killed by a drunk driver. How has this shaped your life?

Why do you make something up rather than respond "I don't know." to a question?

Even though the record has been wiped clean, what about that incident still haunts you?

What is your name?

DIRECTOR

How does it feel working on the network's new ghost hunting show? I mean, what with you being a skeptic.

What habit do you have that you do without thinking?

You tried making good movies. What popular cliché did you always avoid?

Among your many trophies and awards which one do you really feel you earned?

It takes a lot to scare you. When was the last time you really got scared?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Why was it so important to make sure your dad had a proper funeral?

You've worked with the B-list celebrity before, how does it feel to be working together again?

Of course, that was on your last movie, the abysmal failure. The reason you can only get shows like this. What went wrong?

Why do you hate working with this producer?

When you get frustrated, you like to take it out on the PA. What do you have him/her do?

Dread the LARP

<http://www.intink.com>

Why were you thrown out of the military?

Why didn't you fight the divorce despite still loving your spouse?

What is your name?