RIGHTEOUSNESS CHART

You think your wife and daughter would feel good about you killing in their name?

You like to beat up on fucking women, is that it?

When your own government can't protect its people, then I say this, pal: You got a moral obligation, the right of self-preservation.

Every man has a breaking point.

I'm gonna kill 'em. Anybody that was involved. Anybody who profited from it.

What if the cops can't handle this?

Blow the scum away!

Are you saying that my son was killed so that some asshole could feel more like a man?

I need guns.

Whatever happened to justice?

I always believed that fear belonged to other people.

This is for my wife. Fuck you and die!

You want to hear how tight your little homcoming queen was?

There are five men with guns outside.

Now, who's the bitch?

I want you to turn around and blow your fucking brains out.

How much more of this grief are we gonna stand for?

Justice should be harsh. Especially for those who denied it to others.

We gotta be ready for anything. We have to be ready to do anything.

If the police don't defend us, maybe we ought to do it ourselves.

You come to this country, take advantage of the system and think because we are tolerant that we are weak and helpless.
