

BLIND - Julia (The Love)

Julia

“A thornless rose”

You can still remember how he smiled, his brown eyes and great generosity. Christian was the best thing that had happened to you, but you have always loved Phillip. For a long time you waited for Phillip to make the first move, but he never did. One day he was hit by a car, and paralyzed from the waist and down. It was a tragedy you couldn't take. But Christian helped Phillip and you through the suffering. You saw Phillip's soul in Christian's eyes and one thing lead to another. Soon you were together with Christian and it didn't seem to bother Phillip.

One day you were in a fight with Christian, but you can't remember why. You slammed the door and got home late at night. You found the body on the ground. Christian had fallen from the fifth floor onto the dirty ground. No more can you remember and no more would you like to remember.

Ann : Mother of Phillip and Christian, divorced and retired.

Julia : Christian's girlfriend.

Phillip : Christian's younger brother.

Christian : The dead young man.
